

Travel back in time!

THERE was a time when air travel was a leisurely, unhurried, luxury experience.

Vintage style is making a comeback, and recreating the nostalgic, golden days of air travel will add a great and memorable edge to (or could even be the central focus of) an unforgettable incentive programme.

If you have incentive groups looking at Sun City, MalaMala, Sabi Sabi, Victoria Falls, Kariba, Vilanculos, Indigo Bay, Bazaruto, Madagascar or Zanzibar, suggest throwing in a dose of nostalgia travel in the form of chartering a Skyclass Aviation flight to the destination.

The company uses meticulously maintained Douglas DC-4 Skymasters and DC-3 Dakotas, flying out of Gauteng, and it can customise the aircraft for the client, with decals on the exterior, embroidered head-rest covers and branded comfort packs.

Your clients will be amazed at the on-board ambience, the leg-room, the comfortable seats, the view of Africa below and the level of service they receive.

Article appeared in Travel News Weekly September 2007